

Abstract submission

Abstracts and papers will have to be submitted through ROSA - Responsive Online System for Acta Horticulturae submission and review.

Abstract submission will open at 1/11/2019 and therefore we invite participants to submit abstracts for proposed scientific contributions to the conference. To submit an abstract please visit the following link: <https://www.actahort.org/members/symposiar?nr=427>

Acta Horticulturae author guidelines can be found here: <http://www.ishs.org/authors>

To submit an abstract, it is mandatory to have a valid ISHS user account.

Young Minds Awards

During each ISHS Symposium two Young Mind Awards for junior scientists are given, one award for the best oral presentation, and one award for the best poster. Students, junior scientists interested in participating in the ISHS Young Minds Award should indicate this when submitting their abstract by ticking the appropriate box available in the abstract entry page.

By indicating his/her interest in the ISHS Young Mind Award the junior scientist confirms to meet the criteria for participation and agrees to accept the terms and conditions. For more details: <https://www.ishs.org/young-minds-award>
